She is the exiled Princess of Volta and one of the members of the LoliRock band. Appearance Auriana has auburn hair tied in a side ponytail with a periwinkle bow, green eyes, and pale skin. She usually wears an orange shirt that drapes off one shoulder with what could be a white camisole underneath. She also wears a white skirt with a dark purple belt, and blue shoes. She wears a long beaded necklace, a baby blue heart shaped earring, and periwinkle and green bracelets.After she transforms, she has orange-yellow hair. Her magic gem symbol is an orange crescent moon. Her crystal is located in her ring which is star-shaped. She wears an orange and white dress with dark boots. In the episode "Wicked Red", Auriana turns evil and temporarily leaves the LoliRock band, becoming a solo singer known as Wicked Red. In her human form, evil Auriana wears a similar outfit as seen in the Party Talking music video, except her hair is down and redder. She wears red lips, gloss and black eyeshadow, while her dress and gloves was changed to white and black, and her tights were colored dark green instead with black and white heels. Personality Auriana is the most optimistic of the group. She can get distracted easily but when her friends, Iris and Talia, are in trouble they really can count on her for help. She is optimistic, bubbly, and her happiness is always shining brightly. She is also very chatty and can say things that are out of line but is a caring friend and is always there when they need her. Abilities and Equipment Although portrayed as a knight, Auriana is a capable fighter being able to be on the same combative level as Talia. Though not an expert at most spells like the Talia, Auriana is very proficient in defensive spells, a trait that Voltans are known for. Auriana has surprisingly good communication skills with earth animals as shown in the episode "Sirens". Auriana fights with the Ribbon of Volta, often using it as a whip to attack and restrain her enemies. She is also shown to have thrown a crescent-shaped boomerang once which is not named nor seen as an alteration of her Ribbon of Volta. She seems to dislike the dark, as she remarks upon it in The Ruby of the Orient. Auriana is good in singing and dancing, and can master playing the tambourine and sometimes drums. Series In season 1, Auriana is first introduced when trying to find Iris on Earth. She was first seen in the episode To Find a Princess when she and Talia were doing auditions for a band, and once they found Iris, they explained her true purpose, and the 3 of the princesses began their journey together finding the Oracle Gems to save their planet. More Coming soon... Sightings Magical Abilities Like her fellow princesses, Auriana can use Crystal Magic. Though not as proficient as Talia, she has a good grasp of it to be a good rival in combat, especially on defensive shield. Additionally, she can call upon the Ribbon of Volta as a weapon during a fight, and she is good at grabbing things and knocking things away with her ribbon. Transformation Sequences Auriana's Transformation LoliRock ZeeKay Trivia It is revealed that Auriana has 32 sisters, as mentioned in the episode "Xeris" in Season 1. According to the teams Tumblr page, they are not all related by blood, but Voltans consider anyone they've raised as their own children. During the visual development stage, Auriana's color scheme was the most debated by the character designers, Bertrand Todesco and Benedicte Ciaravino, who went through various combinations of purple, green, yellow, and orange, before they ultimately decided on the all-orange color scheme. In the episode, "The Birthday", Auriana says that she has a grandmother who is 243 years old. Auriana is based off the famed pop singer Ariana Grande, having the same ponytail, and similar name.[1] She also has a slight design reference to Leighton Meester. In the Greek dub, Auriana was called "Oriana". A frequent error is where Auriana's true form has the same red eyebrows like in civilian form. Another error is that her lipstick sometimes disappears. Her magic crest bears the crescent moon as its symbol. Her transformation ring has the shape of a star with a moon on its center, though mostly her theme is the crescent moon. In early development, Auriana was originally named Aurora. Several of her designs include a violet/purple color scheme instead of yellow (one of them is light blue). Auriana seems to love earth music festivals. In "If You Can't Beat'em", Auriana is revealed to use crescent-shaped boomerangs. She is the second princess to be turned evil as seen in "Wicked Red". The first being Iris in "No Thanks For The Memories" and the third being Talia in "Dancing Shoes". She is voiced alongside Carissa by Tabitha St. Germain, using her Rarity speaking voice from My Little Pony: Friendship is Magic. She also voiced other characters such as Milo Powell, aka Captain Flamingo in the television series and Tinny from RollBots. As said by Nathaniel in "Home: Part 1" and seen "Smart", her favourite food is ice cream, and in "Crowning Glory: Part 1" she reveals to be fond of an similar Ephedian food called Jubberry Ice Cream. Auriana has a small habit of almost giving away her magical secret, as if the humans already knew. In the early episodes of Season 1, Auriana had the ability to teleport. "I hate you! God, does it feel good to finally say that." "Were you ever going to tell me?" "You care about me...right? This wasn't just a lie, was it?" "Please, not now." "You thought this was real." "I never loved you. Why can't you accept that?" "Alcohol is the only thing I have left. You abandoned me as soon as you got the chance." "You deserve so much better than me." "Did you even care? Ever?" "Do it." "You are family, I'm not gonna do anything." "Do it. Please. God, please just end this!" "I never got the chance to tell you I loved you." "Maybe that was for the best." Please, I'm open to write anything! 7 notes · View notes hellonoblesky · 11 months ago Text Hey other Lolirock enjoyers how do y'all think the magic crystal system like. Works. Bc I have a hc that everyone in Ephedia is born connected to a crystal in like one magic mine or something but if they don't find that crystal by like. 13 or something then the connection pretty much breaks and the only way to can establish is by either finding it again and performing a ceremony or smth, or being put into a near-death situation, which will cause it to fast-travel to you so you can defend yourself. But the mine is such a hassle to get to and is so heavily guarded and there's so much like?? Paperwork to get like an hour in there that most people just Don't get their crystal?? 42 notes · View notes Text Lindsay Princess of Kukitoo! Or maybe Talia and Praxina in a ship sense perchance? :3 I think any of them would look great in your style She looks completely on brand for me 68 notes · View notes childhoodcreativity · a year ago Video youtube (c) Hayley Kiyoko 42 notes · View notes heartof-paper · 4 years ago Photo When Iris was going through shanila I really wanted to see her transform with her new hair. But alas, it did not happen so I came up with the idea to draw the hair on he instead! First time doing it and was harder and took longer than I expected. 70 notes · View notes
